

Matador (ESP 175) Elmer Sheffield, Jr.

OPENER Mainstream

Sides face, grand square

Everybody holds their breath
As he passes by the horns of death
The crowd is on its feet to roar
For the matador

Circle left

As the scarlet cape begins to sweep

Left allemande, promenade your sweet
Tonight her heart is beating for
The matador

Heads square thru and go four

Around the corner do a dosado

Spin chain thru, girls circulate twice around

Everybody turn thru and go left allemande

Walk by the first, then swing and promenade

Inside her heart is beating for
The matador

MIDDLE BREAK Mainstream

Sides face, grand square

Tonight she'll meet beneath those

Silver stars

Dance to the mandolins

And soft guitars

La la la la la la la la la allemande left and promenade

(Musical Interlude)

CLOSER

As he left the ring they all cheered
Sombreros flying through the air
She throws the crimson rose she wore
To the Matador

Four ladies chain across
Now chain her back and promenade
Tonight her heart is beating for
The matador

TAG

Ladies chain over and back
Olé
